Features of Learning at AIKB35

1 Systematic Literacy Development

Children develop balanced skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing according to their individual level of understanding.

2 Building Critical Thinking through Reading Aloud and Comprehension

Through oral reading and reading comprehension activities, children learn to understand texts and develop independent thinking skills.

3 Individualized Learning

Activities are adjusted according to each child's literacy level and understanding, allowing them to progress at their own pace.

4 Enjoying Japanese Culture and the Seasons

Through seasonal picture books and cultural activities, children experience and appreciate Japanese traditions and customs.

Message to Parents

At AIKB35, we value meaningful and effective learning.

Children learn letters, develop reading comprehension, and learn to think in Japanese. At the same time, they experience Japanese culture and seasonal traditions, helping them use Japanese as their own language.

By supporting each child's individual growth, we provide enjoyable learning opportunities that foster the ability to think and express themselves in Japanese.
